
INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY STANDARD
NUMBER 610-4

CORE COMPETENCIES FOR SUPERVISORY AND MANAGERIAL INTELLIGENCE
COMMUNITY EMPLOYEES AT GS-15 AND BELOW
(ORIGINALLY ISSUED: 1 SEPTEMBER 2008)
(AMENDED: 4 OCTOBER 2010)

This Intelligence Community Standard (ICS) provides established labels and definitions for core competencies applicable to all GS-15 and below (that is, at or below General Schedule grade 15 or equivalent and, or comparable personal rank and below), IC supervisory/managerial employees, regardless of IC component, mission category, or occupational group. Note, the core competencies identified and defined for non-supervisory IC civilian employees at GS-15 and below or equivalent (see ICS 610-3) serve as the foundation for the competencies and performance elements provided in this ICS. In addition, the core competencies provided here serve as the foundation for the competencies and performance elements for IC Senior Officers (see ICS 610-5).

Table 1 provides the labels and definitions of the core competencies organized by the six IC performance elements for supervisory/managerial employees GS-15 and below, as detailed in ICD 651.

Table 1. Core Competencies for Supervisory and Managerial IC Employees at GS-15 and Below

Supervisory/Managerial Employees at GS-15 and Below	Core	Definition
	Engagement and Collaboration	IC employees have a responsibility to share information and knowledge to achieve results, and in that regard are expected to recognize, value, build, and leverage diverse collaborative networks of coworkers, peers, customers, stakeholders, and teams within an organization and/or across the IC. In addition, IC supervisors are expected to create an environment that promotes engagement, collaboration, integration, and the sharing of information and knowledge.
	Building Managerial Networks	Develops collaborative information and knowledge sharing networks and builds alliances with colleagues and counterparts within and/or across the organization, the IC, or other government/private organizations to share management practices and influence program outcomes.
