MEMORANDUM FOR: SEE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: Reorganization of the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence

Effective June 1, 2008, the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence (OUSDI) implemented an internal reorganization. The purpose of this reorganization is to address the Secretary of Defense decision to strengthen Human Intelligence (HUMINT) and Counterintelligence (CI) integration and synchronization, more properly align the core functions of the office, and ensure the OUSDI is effectively postured to address the highest priorities of the Department of Defense (DoD) and the Intelligence Community (IC).

The most significant change is the realignment into four core functions – Joint Force Operations, Technical Intelligence Disciplines, Programs and Resources, and HUMINT/CI and Security (organizational chart attached). To accommodate this change, my four offices of Deputy Under Secretaries of Defense (ODUSDs) have been reorganized and assigned the responsibility for one of the functional areas.

- ODUSD for Warfighter Support is reorganized as ODUSD for Joint and Coalition Warfighter Support (J&CWS). The ODUSD(J&CWS) is the senior advisor for military issues and the office's functions include Policy, Strategy and Doctrine; Warfighter Requirements and Evaluations; Information Operations and Strategic Studies; and Special Programs.
- ODUSD for Collection, Analysis and Mission Management is reorganized as ODUSD for Technical Collection and Analysis (TC&A). ODUSD(TC&A) responsibilities include Analytic Concepts & Strategies, Collection Concepts & Strategies, and Special Capabilities.
- ODUSD for Acquisition, Resources and Technology is reorganized as ODUSD for Portfolio, Programs and Resources (PP&R). ODUSD(PP&R) responsibilities include the Battlespace Awareness Portfolio; Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance Programs; and Military Intelligence Program.

- ODUSD for Counterintelligence and Security is reorganized as ODUSD for HUMINT, Counterintelligence and Security (HCI&S). HCI&S responsibilities include Human Intelligence, Counterintelligence, Security, and Sensitive Activities.

Although a change in Administrations is nearing, the war on terror continues. This change will improve the effectiveness and efficiency of our service to those in the field today while we set the conditions for success for those to follow.
